Klik Records returns with the presentation of the series' third installment. This time, the special guest arrives again from Germany. It's Plastic City Families' Terry Lee Brown Jr. For years Terry Lee Brown Jr. has been considered as a member of the international elite of House producers, and like no other, he has developed the sub genre Tech-House. In the USA and England his first two albums became successes of note and the media got a surprise when they found out Mr. Brown is actually a German. Terry Lee Brown Jr, alias Norman Feller, began DJing in 1989 and soon thereafter released his first tracks on vinyl under various pseudonyms. Based on his respect to the Greek crowd and Land Terry Lee Brown JR delivers an amazing mix with house, deep, tech and minimal elements while some exceptional collaborations by some of the most respected labels and artists are featured, such as Mikael Delta, ION, Nicola Gala, Trentemoller, Denis Karimani, Eric Borgo Vs Oxia Mathew Jonson, H.O.S.H., Will Saul & Tam Cooper, Kaito, Jimpster, Liberto to name a few. For sure this is an exceptional summer mix from the godfather of the tech house music. Sounds Of Instruments 03 is also accompanied by a DVD that includes a film by Panayiotis Hadjistefanou.ska Nanogod.

YOSEBU
I'll be waiting till dawn

Yosebu leaves the atmospheric deep house music scene for a while and presents his new solo album 'I Will Be Waiting Till Dawn'. In his new project Yosebu uses the most appropriate sound engineering techniques in order to capture his warm sound in a cd. The results create acoustic emotions that we have never experienced before. Cinematic down tempo melodies that move fast like fire of notes. Beautiful, eccentric, erotic compositions from Yosebu who manages to give us the music that lives inside his mind in a manner that escapes the standards of down tempo electronica. A unique cocktail of guitars, samples and vocals to the point where electronic details meet orchestral music and move it to a higher level.

NIKKO PATRELAKIS
Echo

SHCD07
PC: 51
file under: Electronica / New Jazz

The album ECHO, introduces us to live recordings, guest vocalists and more than 50 guest musicians. Combined with the music composition and personal style of Nikko Patrelakis it delivers a unique music project.

It can be filed under the title nu jazz electronica, but sound diversity and mood variations make any categorization a limiting attempt. Illustrating the point are such examples as: ?cro iris, an electro bossa nova sung by Miranda Verouli (already gaining significant air time on Greek radio), Shortcut, a pop electro song interpreted by K. Bhta, one of Niko's favorite artists, Voyage featuring Louis Bozon, the French radio veteran recorded in Paris and the ERT symphony Orchestra recorded in Athens. The track Echo as in the album title, is dedicated to years of clubbing and dancefloors, "where we danced, met and fell in love" ... Press response has been positive to the extent of describing Echo as: ("perfect", "dreamlike", "full of sound miracles", "a great modern work"... ) indicating the one certain thing we can expect from the new album of Nikko Patrelakis, is that it will deliver music enjoyment.

George Kyriakou and Hiroshi Watanabe make an imaginative trip to the Far East and present a unique project dedicated to the Japanese electronic music culture. Undoubtedly Big In Japan constitutes a project where the Japanese artists attribute their biggest respect in a country that they admire so much for its history, its beauty, and of course its crowd based always on amazing stories they heard from an established Greek Japanese hero, Hiroshi Watanabe. A unique listening experience, an endless trip feat ten unique musical soundscapes flirting between atmospheric deep house, mellow beats and techy electronica ready to melt your heart.

HIROSHI WATANABE

With his release "Instruments 02", Hiroshi Watanabe sold more than 12.500 copies worldwide. All his projects received just the best critics & reviews from magazines like DJ Mag, Future Music, Mixmag, Blues & Soul, IDJ, Hot Press, Update, M8 or Eq Magazine.

As a producer, Hiroshi Watanabe has proved that his Sound carries a lot of emotion & atmosphere.

With Genesis Hiroshi once more created a genial mixture of House, Ambient plus a bit of Techno as well.

SERAFIM TSOTSONIS
Peak

KLCD031

PC: 51

file under: Electronica

Serafim Tsotsonis was born in Athens in 1977. He studied piano and theory and went on to sound engineering. His musical influences range from classical music and composers such as Erik Satie and Claude Debussy up to Manos Hatzidakis, Joy Division, Brian Eno, Mick Karn and Wim Mertens.

Serafim has composed music for the cinema, theatre, documentaries, dance shows and video art projects that have been presented in Greece and abroad.

In Peak, Serafim creates music that is as much classical as it is electronic. This is an album with 14 tracks with originality and a cinematic mood as their common denominator. 14 tracks that take the listener into a world of dreams!

Emotionally charged, dreamy melodies, classic orchestrations. Sweet melancholy as well as an optimistic feeling from an album that moves through electro pop and experimental soundscapes that sometimes touch on minimal atmospheres...

ARIS KOKOU
Seven days in heaven

Klik Records welcomes a new artist in its roster and presents Aris Kokou with his debut album Seven Days In heaven. Aris Kokou has been an active member within the International electronic scene for the last ten years. Back in the 1990s Aris Kokou in collaboration with Bill Makris creates the project Intersperse and records more that seven 12" for the legendary label of Ltj Bukem, Good Looking records. Aris Kokou, Seven Days in Heaven album is varied in tone and intensity with a brilliant selection of deep house numbers interposed with tech house elements, drum and bass rollers and downtempo soundscapes. The sequencing is tight and all tracks build, blow up and come down nicely creating an intense emotional response. Seven Days in Heaven is a concept deep /tech album, which is adapted to the demands of the modern electronic sound, that's once again distinguished by its aesthetics and impeccable production.
